ALI SHAN
MASOOD

WEB DEVELOPER

About Me

A detail-oriented and creative web developer in my final year of pursuing a degree in Bs Information Technology. I have a strong foundation in web development technologies and programming languages. My experience includes building websites using HTML, CSS, and JavaScript, and working with frameworks like Bootstrap and React for responsive and visually appealing designs. I've successfully completed various web development projects individually and in teams, enhancing my collaboration, project management, and problem-solving skills. With my passion and motivation for web development,
